BEYOND TRAUMA INFORMED: SCHOOLS
TAKING ACTION TO ADDRESS THE NEEDS OF
STUDENTS AFFECTED BY TRAUMA

PRESENTER:

Matthew Reddam, Trauma Transformed

ABOUT:

Matthew Reddam will guide participants "out of the box" of practices and into a deeper understanding of systems within in the trauma responsive setting. Participants will explore communication through the language we use around trauma, and identify where their systems exist, through the lens of active trauma response.

Matthew brings a timely and unique perspective to this work as a trauma specialist, supporting mental health teams responding to the recent fires impacting children, teachers, families and school systems in Northern California.

BEYOND TRAUMA INFORMED: SCHOOLS
STUDENTS AFFECTED BY TRAUMA (CONTINUED)

10:30AM - 12:00PM, Nautilus

PRESENTER:

James Thompson, Hanna Boys Center/Trauma Transformed (T2)

ABOUT:

James Thompson will build upon the morning session and activities to address the role of race and culture, and how these critical variables work with stress and trauma outcomes. Participants will explore implicit bias across systems, recognizing steps to move beyond trauma informed. James will engage participants in meaningful work, with immediate applications to the educational setting.
