

CHRIS GIBSON

FAMILY SUPPORT CASE
ALAMEDA COUNTY PUBLIC HEALTH
DEPARTMENT FATHERHOOD
INITIATIVE PROGRAM

BIO

Christopher Gibson is a Family Support Case Manager for the Alameda County Public Health Department Fatherhood Initiative Program. Chris's focus is to encourage dads to be Resilient, Present, and consistent with their parenting. Currently, he is serving as the oversee of supervisor of two fatherhood being held at WIC sites in Oakland, Ca. He is a member of the Alameda County Fathers Corps, where he works with other fatherhood service providers to influences system-wide change, in family court, Social Services, Child support, and others that have a biased view of men and fatherhood. Chris also provides technical assistance to health clinics to become father-friendly and help with outreach and group facilitation. Chris is a native of Richmond, California. He is also a father of three children. Chris received his Bachelor of Science from California State University East Bay and will be starting his Masters' in Public Administration in Fall 2020. Chris also currently serves as a Youth Pastor at Bethel Church in Richmond.

